COUNTY NEWS.

MOSCOW.

ALL FOR THE BEST.

All's for the best, be sanguine and cheerful. Troubles and sorrows are friends in disguise; Nothing but folly goes faithless and fearful. Courage forever is happy and wise.

The writer deeply appreciates the kind compliments expressed for "Mothers' Day" in the local Methodist church and especially the nice mention of same which appeared in the Midland Methodist of May 24. Somebody was awful nice to the writer and somebody has his heartfelt thanks for the above piece.

Miss Mattie Owen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Owen, was married Thursday in Memphis to J. M. Hooker, the junior member of the local firm of L. W. Dowdy & Co.

E. H. Musgrave of Caruthersville, Missouri, has been visiting his brother, Dr. Guy W. Musgrave.

Miss Ollie Slides and Mr. Clifford Williams of Memphis were united in marriage Thursday by Esq. John J. Steger at the home of a Mr. Townsend east of this place.

L. W. Dowdy attended the golden wedding anniversary of his parents at Saulsbury Wednesday.

As anger inspires anger, as love and sympathy inspire love and sympathy in others, each of its kind, so cheerfulness and happiness inspire the same in others.

Miss Legal Tender Rich arrived home from school duties at Biloxi Tuesday. Miss Rich was accompanied home by her friend, Miss Holly, who will be here for some time.

Mrs. J. T. Hester, T. J. Moss, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Owen, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bryant and Dr. G. W. Musgrave were in Memphis the past week.

A ship, although not a woman, possesses a waist, collars, stays, laces, bonnets, ribbons, ties, chains, watches, and other distinctly feminine attributes.

Miss Kathleen Baldwin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Baldwin, has returned home from Oxford where she has been at school.

Mr. and Mrs. H. J. Hazlewood have taken rooms with J. W. Sisco and wife where they will continue to keep house pending the erection of their new home in East End.

Last week's Moscow notes should have contained the mention of the visit to Mr. and Mrs. John J. Steger, of their son, Parish Steger, and wife from Bonham, Texas, which was omitted by the printer.

Miss Mable Baldwin has been spending the past week with local friends.

Dr. John M. Stevenson is having a concrete floor laid in his store building.

Misses Legal, Charline and Inez Rich, Susie Rook and Miss Holly spent the day Saturday in Memphis.

Every son and daughter owes a debt of comfort, of companionship and support to "Mother." She never changes in her love for you though her strength and her sight and her features change. Is your mother living? Love her, hug her, comfort her. She will never be the care to you that you were to her. Don't count your dimes when you can give her comfort on the river brink.

Revenge is always the weak pleasure of a little and narrow mind. Love thy neighbor as thyself.

Some local hog pens are beginning to bestir themselves. 'Tis strange why anyone should allow such to exist right at their door, to say nothing of what the neighbor thinks about it.

Miss Verner Forbes of Little Rock is a guest of her mother, Mrs. A. E. Furcron.

We have dear personal friends in this community, yet when the items for Moscow notes are considered we have no favorites but desire to be just to all in every mention we make. If we omit a visitor or some other fact about someone, it is because we fail to get it. Our frequent request for aid in obtaining news from this column has met with a very poor response, regardless of the fact that some of our people apparently take an interest in the weekly batch of news.

Mrs. Oscar Hurdle and children were guests of Mrs. S. C. Bull.

The presiding elder, Rev. Meaders, occupied the pulpit at the local M. E. church Sunday.

Chevy Chase, one of the best young men we know, spent the past Sabbath with friends here.

Bedford Mason who is employed at Forrest Hill was another Sunday visitor at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Mason.

Members of the LaGrange circuit of the M. E. Church presented the pastor, Rev. F. H. Cumming, at the Sunday night services, with a thousand-mile railroad ticket in appreciation of his excellent and untiring services rendered the three churches. The presentation speech was made by R. N. Ware.

Don't allow the county fair project to grow cold. Keep the pot a-bollin'.

Antioch.

Mrs. Jett Tomlin and Mrs. Pearl Rich are on the sick list. Little Lady Mary Dennie who has been very sick is almost well again.

H. A. Allen and wife and Myrt Allen and family visited at Mrs. Cole's Sunday and attended preaching at Antioch. Claude and Willie Belle Douglass were Sunday visitors to J. A. Douglass.

We are sorry to learn that we have a case of pellagra in our neighborhood, Mr. Cowan Belt being afflicted with the disease. The doctors say he has a good chance for recovery.

Miss Jessie Harrison has been quite ill for several weeks.

M. J. Tomlin of Oakland visited at the home of his parents recently.

Mrs. Irene Dennie returned last week from Arkansas where she was called by the serious illness of her father.

There will be a play and parcel post sale at the school house June 16 for the benefit of the Warren church.

Opal Rich visited relatives in Somerville last Thursday and attended the meeting of the tomato club. WILLIE.

Fair Directors Met Saturday.

The directors of the fair association met in the chancery court room last Saturday and heard the reports of the committees appointed at a previous meeting. The committee on awards and premiums had their report ready and when it was submitted it was adopted with a few changes which the directors thought for the best of the fair and the people.

The soliciting committees reported further that they had raised an additional sum, raising the total to about $450. It is desired by the directors to increase these subscriptions to $500, as it has been discovered that this sum will be needed to defray necessary expenses and pay the premiums offered. There are seven districts in the county that have not been heard from on this fund. They are second, third, sixth, seventh, ninth, tenth and fourteenth. Committees were appointed in these districts and blanks sent them just as in the others and it has been a matter of regret to the directors that the committees have not made their reports. There are unquestionably citizens in these districts who expect to take part in the fair—last year some of the most coveted prizes awarded by the fair went to these districts.

Saturday's meeting was in many respects the most successful and enthusiastic meeting yet held. Besides the directors and committees there were present at the meeting half a hundred citizens from several districts which are taking an active interest in the fair. Encouraging information was brought by these directors and visitors and there is every assurance that the fair is going to be bigger and better than it was last year, a real credit to Fayette county. And then in the friendly competition that it will bring there will be much good to the county. Invitation is given to every farmer and business man in the county to join with those who are working on the project and help them to make it the success it deserves.

In the next few days work of printing the catalogs will begin, just as soon as the matter can be arranged for the printers and as soon as completed about one half the supply will be mailed out to citizens, the other half being held until a short time before the fair when any citizen can secure one by calling on the secretary or any of the directors. Requests are hereby made to business men and stock raisers thruout the county to send to the secretary advertisements for insertion in the catalog, $5 for a full page, and $3 for one half page. Send money along to pay for the advertisement.

If every progressive citizen will get to boosting the fair and boost thruout the season in proportion to the good the county will derive from it the good will be increased many times. Get the boosting habit and be sure to boost the fair.

High School Closes.

The first number of the Commencement exercises was given on Sunday evening May 21, at the Presbyterian church by the Rev. Geo. E. Foskett of Louisville, Ky. The rather unusual but altogether appropriate text taken from Job 8-7 "Though thy beginning was small, yet should thy latter end greatly increase", was treated in a most comprehensive and forcible manner. The high school commencement may be small, yet it marks the beginning of real life thruout which man must never cease to strive, so that the end may be full. The exposition of the theme was clear and forcible, impressing the inevitable truths upon the minds of the mature, and bringing the youth face to face with the seriousness of commencement.

On Tuesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Foskett were at home to the members of the Senior class and High School faculty. The students and teachers were brought to feel forcibly the parting of the way, in the hospitable home of the principal and wife.

The program was continued on Wednesday night by the play, "Looking for Mary Jane" which was given by the Senior class aided by other talent of the school. This little comedy or humorous mixup showed careful training and talent. The ridiculous scrapes of the smasher, the pert answers of the maid, the dialect of the Dutchman and the sentimental love tale of the lover would have provoked a laugh from even the most dignified. The door receipts were altogether satisfactory, for which the High School is appreciative.

The final exercises were held Thursday evening at the opera house. The presenting to this young and interesting class of six boys and thirteen girls Tennessee's reward of faithful and careful study is always attractive. The first number on this program was the class essay, "Modern Discoveries and Inventions read by James Bailia, concise review of the modern scientific world.

The class testator, "Mr. Roy Tomlin, read the "Last Will and Testament of the Class of 1916," bequeathing to the faculty peaceful nights, a much needed rest from 1916 petitions and a pleasant vacation, and to the class of 1917 good wishes for a pleasant and successful year. The class Oration, "Preparedness", by Mr. Harry Bowers, had to be omitted as the orator had to leave for St. Louis to take a position.

The class address delivered by Dr. J. R. Dobyns, President of the S. P. U. at Clarksville was very impressive indeed, "Education" the subject, is a very vital one, that the fundamental of true Education is Christian Education. And that the Educated man is the power in the world today.

The diplomas were presented by Mr. Foskett, the principal of our High School, at which time he thoroughly aroused the tender emotion by his farewell talk coming right from the heart, and drawing the class and teacher more closely together.

This brings to a close the seventh successful year of our County High

Plant For Seed An Acre Of Cowpeas.

For each mule you work, and for forage two acres for each mule. Plant as much more as you can in the corn, Pasture after the corn is gathered, then turn under stalks and vines to make big crops next year.

Plant cowpeas for seed in corn at the last cultivation. Pick the seed. Cut and shock the corn, using the fodder and pea vines in the place of hay. Every tenant and every land owner needs a supply of cowpea seed of his own raising so that he can sow a large acreage every year without having to think about the cost of seed. The yield of seed varies from 5 to 30 bushels an acre, with an average of 7 to 12 bushels.

Plant cowpeas on every acre from which you harvest small grain, and where the stand of cotton and corn is poor. The largest part of the profit in raising small grain comes from following with cowpeas. Cut as much of the cowpeas as you need for hay and turn the rest under. The whole crop turned under enriches the soil three times as much as the roots alone.

A good crop of cowpeas contains on an acre nitrogen worth $15.00 to $20.00; potash, $6.00, and phosphoric acid, $1.00. The roots go down over three feet and make the land mellow cheaper than can be done with plow and harrow. At the Alabama Experiment Station cowpeas turned under made an increase the first year of 696 pounds seed cotton an acre. Their effect is increasing the yield usually shows three to four years.

At the Tennessee Experiment Station two pounds of cowpeas hay were equal to one pound cottonseed meal for beef production; three pounds cowpea hay were equal to one pound cottonseed meal for producing milk.

Another Confederate Veteran Crossed Over.

At his home in this city last Thursday afternoon, May 25, Frank L. Maddox, another of the followers of the "Lost Cause", crossed the last river and his spirit goes to join the hosts of comrades and loved ones who have gone on before.

Deceased was born in Hanover county, Virginia, April 27, 1843, joined the Richmond Howitzers at the beginning of the war, and was captured at Gettysburg and was held as prisoner at Camp Chase, Ohio, until the close of war came, to Fayette county about 1867, was married to Miss Julia Ann Carpenter here in 1869, January 14, and so had been a citizen of this county nearly a half century. There were born to the union named seven children, five of whom yet survive: H. L. Maddox and E. W. Maddox, Mrs. J. C. Leach and Miss Lucy Maddox, all of this city and Julian A. Maddox of Sumner, Mississippi. Miss Alys having passed on about a decade ago, F. L. Maddox Jr. and the wife of deceased both within the last two years.

For many years Mr. Maddox was prominent in the upbuilding of Somerville. He was a contractor and builder and has helped to erect many of the best buildings, public and private, in this city and section. He has held places of trust among his fellowmen and was always found capable, honest and straight forward. Of a most open, frank and plain disposition toward those he dealt with, warm hearted and generous to friends and fair and honest with every one. He was a member of the Methodist church in this city and had been for a long term of years. His quiet manner, strong personality, and unpretentious and sharp wit had won for him many friends and the long term of his failing health and confinement at his home have been much regretted by those who had learned to appreciate him.

The funeral services were held on last Friday at 10:30 and the body placed to its last rest in the Somerville cemetery where rest the three members of his immediate family who have preceded him, and in his passing not only one of Somerville's oldest residents is gone, but also one of her best citizens.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a running sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; since cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circular, free.
